“Build the content. Learn the craft. Own the answer booklet.”

The complete static foundation for GS Papers I, II and III — built for Mains 2027.

72 LIVE CLASSES

Complete static GS I, II and III — every class anchored to a previous year question, 2013–2026.

22 EVALUATED TESTS

18 sectional half-length tests and 4 full-length GS simulators — included in the fee, every copy marked.

1:1 MENTORSHIP

A named mentor for the full four months, reading your copies and resetting your plan.

Bundle for 360° Mains coverage

Current Affairs (CA+), GS Paper IV (Ethics+) and the Essay Guidance Program are subscribed separately — and are available at a reduced bundled price alongside GSAP.

WHY GSAP? THE MAINS GAP

Most aspirants clear prelims year after year but fail at Mains repeatedly; often with the same set of notes, same set of strategy and same set of mistakes. While Prelims is the first and the basic filter; Mains is the real filter.

Where Preparation Actually Breaks — And What GSAP Does About It

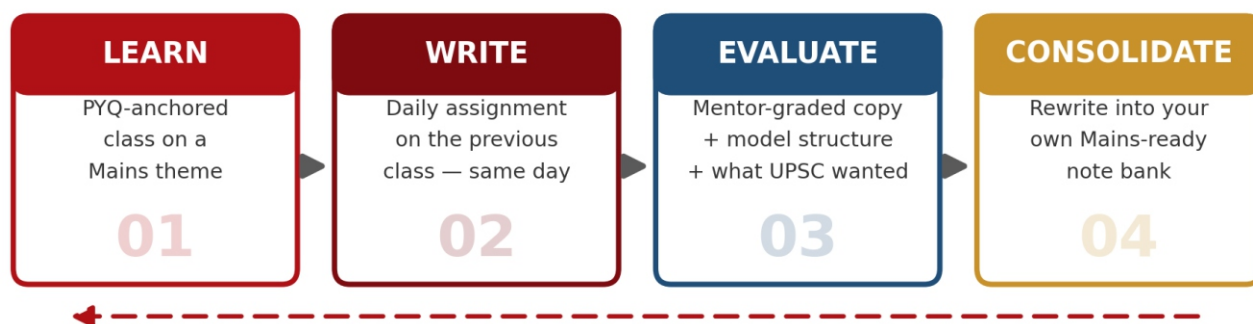

The Problem	The GSAP Response
1. Fragmented preparation	Reading is driven by whatever a test series happens to ask that week. GSAP replaces this with one 72-class syllabus map that fixes both the core locus and the outer boundary of every Mains theme — so you know exactly how deep to go, and when to stop.
2. Stale, inherited notes	Notes written two or three attempts ago no longer match how UPSC frames questions. GSAP builds notes from scratch in 2026–27 language, with structured consolidation checkpoints so the notes are finished before Mains, not during it.
3. Gaping holes in added topics	The themes that separate a 90 marks from a 120 marks have no single book source. GSAP devotes dedicated class time to exactly these interdisciplinary and emerging areas.
4. The knowledge plateau	By the third attempt, re-reading the same material yields nothing new. Every GSAP class is anchored to a previous year question and then extended — adding a fresh analytical layer over content you already know.
5. Borrowed strategy	Copying a topper whose profile, optional and writing speed are nothing like yours. Your GSAP mentor reads your copies and builds a plan around your gaps, not somebody else's.

WHAT 'A MAINS FOUNDATION' MEANS

GSAP is not a GS Foundation course. It is not a crash course either. It is the bridge between the two — the stage where basic reading is converted into examination-grade content and a repeatable answer-writing method.

Stage 1	Stage 2	Stage 3	Stage 4
Basic Reading NCERTs & standard books	GSAP Mains Foundation - you are here	CA+ · Ethics+ · EGP Breadth & remaining papers	MGP & Simulation Exam-condition practice

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

REPEAT × 72 CLASSES — the loop is the programme

Content that is only heard is forgotten. Content that is heard, written, corrected and rewritten becomes a marks-scoring instrument. That four-step loop — repeated sixty-eight times over four months — is the programme.

GSAP IS FOR YOU IF

- You have completed at least one round of reading across all GS subjects
- You are targeting Mains 2027 and want your static content finished well before Prelims
- You have written Mains before and know answers lack depth, not effort
- You have notes, but they are scattered, dated unusable in the last month
- You want a mentor who reads what you write

GSAP IS NOT FOR YOU IF

- You are a fresher who has not yet completed reading of all GS subjects
- You are looking for a substitute for a GS course — GSAP is not one
- You want factual coverage and current affairs GSAP teaches static depth; CA+ covers currents
- You want a recorded lecture library to consume at your own pace

STRUCTURE & DELIVERABLES

01

Content Building Classes · 72 classes, 269 hours

Complete static coverage of GS Papers I, II and III. Every class opens from a previous year question (2013–2026), establishes what UPSC actually asked, and then expands outward to the full boundary of the theme as our faculty assess it for 2027. You are prepared for both the familiar frames and the emerging ones.

02

Daily Assignments · 71 assignments

A written assignment is issued before every class, drawn from the previous session. Answer writing therefore begins on day two and never stops. This is what converts a class you attended into content you can retrieve under a 3-hour clock.

03

Integrated Test Series · 16 sectional + 4 full-length — included

Eighteen half-length sectional tests aligned to the class calendar, beginning in Week 2, plus four full-length GS simulators. Tests are held on Sundays. Every copy is evaluated with a marked-up script, a model structure and a written note on what the question was really asking. No separate purchase, no separate fee.

04

Dedicated 1:1 Mentorship

A named mentor is assigned to you for the full duration of the programme — not a group, not a broadcast channel. Your mentor reviews your copies, tracks your sectional performance, flags recurring structural errors and resets your weekly plan when it slips.

05

The GSAP Note Architecture

Class handouts, a theme-wise note template, and scheduled consolidation checkpoints where your notes are reviewed for usability — not length. The objective is a single, finished, revisable note bank you can read in the ten days before Mains 2027.

06

The Value-Addition Vault

Committee and commission recommendations, government reports and data, Supreme Court holdings, case studies, diagram and flowchart templates, and introduction/conclusion frames. These are the inputs that make an answer look informed rather than opinionated.

07

Beyond the Classroom

Topper copy decode sessions, speed-and-structure clinics for the 150/250-word formats, a Mains micro-syllabus tracker, and scheduled doubt clinics through the programme.

GSAP classes do not cover factual or current-affairs information.

The programme is not recommended for freshers or candidates who have not completed basic reading of all GS subjects. GSAP is not an alternative to GS Foundation classes.

Why finish static content before Prelims 2027?

Because the ten weeks between Prelims and Mains are the worst possible time to be learning a subject for the first time. Candidates who convert use that window for revision, current affairs integration and full-length practice — not for first reading. GSAP closes on your static syllabus in January 2027, leaving that window free for exactly the work that raises marks.

HOW GSAP COMPARES

Mains programmes in the market vary widely in what they actually deliver. The comparison below is against the typical Mains advance or mentorship programme currently on offer.

	GSAP 2027 — A Mains Foundation	Typical Mains Programme
Teaching format	72 live sessions — classroom and live online	Largely pre-recorded lecture libraries
Static coverage	Complete GS I, II and III — 269 hours	40–80 hours of selective ‘value addition’, often GS II and III only
Anchoring	Every class opens from PYQs 2013–2026, then expands	Topic-wise lectures; PYQs handled as a separate module
Answer writing	71 daily assignments — one after every single class	20–30 group live answer-writing sessions
Tests	16 sectional + 4 full-length, evaluated, included in the fee	Frequently a separate purchase or a separate test series
Mentorship	Named 1:1 mentor for the full four months	Group mentorship or cohort channels
Notes	Structured note architecture with consolidation checkpoints	PDF handouts; note-making left to the student
Eligibility	Open to anyone who has completed basic reading	Several competing programmes require a prior Mains attempt
Validity	Until CS (Main) 2027	Commonly 90 days to 6 months
Timing	Static finished before Prelims 2027	Mostly post-Prelims crash windows of 8–10 weeks

The three things almost nobody else gives you

1. Static content finished a full year ahead of the examination, not eight weeks after
2. A daily written assignment after every class — not a weekly group
3. A named mentor who reads your

GSAP + ETHICS+ + CA+ + EGP: THE COMPLETE GS SOLUTION

GSAP covers the entire static dimension of GS Papers I, II and III. Three companion programmes complete the picture. They are sold separately — and are available at a reduced bundled price when taken with GSAP. The GSAP calendar is planned so that its classes do not clash with Ethics+, CA+ or EGP.

Programme	What it adds	Standalone Fee
Ethics+	GS Paper IV in full — conceptual foundation, terminology, thinkers, case-study method and a graded case-study practice track.	₹ 13,000
CA+ for Pre Cum Mains 2027	Mains-oriented current affairs built on completeness, content differentiation and consolidation — the breadth layer over GSAP's static depth.	₹ 30,000
EGP	Essay Guidance Program — structure, philosophical and keyword-based essays, brainstorming method, plus evaluated essay tests.	₹ 14,160

What Each Programme Is Worth on the Mains Marksheet

GS Papers I – III 750 GSAP	GS Paper IV 250 Ethics+	Essay Paper 250 EGP	Across all four GS papers — CA+

Why the add-ons are priced to be taken together

GSAP gives you static depth — 750 marks of the Mains paper thoroughly prepared, and 500 marks left untouched. Ethics+ closes GS Paper IV, EGP closes the Essay, and CA+ supplies the current dimension that examiners now expect inside every GS answer. Bought separately, GSAP and the three add-ons cost ₹ 54,999. Taken together, they cost ₹ 47,999.

Which Variant Is Right for You?

Where you are right now	Take
Your static content is the weak link. Current affairs and Ethics are already running through other sources you trust.	GSAP 2027 (Core)
You have written Mains before and GS Paper IV has never crossed the 100 mark, despite the content being finite.	GSAP + Ethics+
Your GS scores sit in the 90s across all three papers — the content is there, but the answers read dated and generic.	GSAP + CA+
This is your first serious Mains attempt, or you want one calendar, one mentor and no gaps across all four papers plus Essay.	GSAP 360°

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A. I have never written Mains. Can I join GSAP?

Yes — provided you have completed at least one round of basic reading across all GS subjects. GSAP is a Mains foundation, not a Mains crash course, and it assumes basic reading rather than prior Mains experience. Unlike several competing programmes, we do not require a previous Mains attempt.

Q. Is GSAP a replacement for a GS Foundation course?

No. GSAP assumes you already know the basics and works on depth, framing and answer construction. If you have not completed basic reading, please speak to our counsellors about GSFP instead.

Q. Does GSAP cover current affairs?

No. GSAP teaches static content. Current affairs for Mains 2027 is covered by the CA+ programme, available separately or at a bundled price with GSAP.

Q. Is GS Paper IV (Ethics) included?

No. Ethics is covered by Ethics+, available separately or bundled. The GSAP calendar is planned so that its classes do not clash with Ethics+ or CA+.

Q. Are the tests included in the fee?

Yes. 16 sectional half-length tests and 4 full-length GS simulators are part of every variant, and every copy is evaluated. Tests run on Sundays from Week 2. There is no additional test-series purchase.

Q. What if I miss a class?

Session recordings are made available to enrolled students for a limited window so that you can catch up without falling behind the assignment cycle.

A. Can I switch from Online to Offline mid-programme?

Yes, subject to seat availability at the centre and payment of the fee differential.

A. What is the difference between GSAP and MGP?

GSAP builds the content and teaches the method; MGP is a test series that stress-tests both. GSAP already includes 16 sectional and 4 full-length evaluated tests, which is sufficient practice alongside the classes. MGP remains available separately for candidates who want a fuller simulation track closer to the examination.

Q. How is this different from the fast-track GSAP batch (June)?

The fast-track batch compresses the framework into a much shorter post-Prelims window of roughly 42 sessions. This four month classroom cohort runs before Prelims, covers 72 sessions and 269 hours, and spreads the assignment cycle out so that writing improves gradually rather than in a sprint.

Q. Do I receive study material, or am I expected to make my own notes?

Both. You receive class handouts and access to the Value-Addition Vault. But the notes you will actually revise in the last month are the ones you write, which is why note consolidation is a scheduled, reviewed part of the programme rather than an afterthought.

Q. Can I take GSAP alongside Optional coaching?

Yes. GSAP runs on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday in a single evening slot. Tuesday and Friday are deliberately kept clear for CA+ and Ethics+, and your mornings stay free throughout. Many students run their Optional in parallel; tell your mentor at the start so your weekly plan accounts for it.

Q. Offline or online — what actually differs?

The faculty, assignments, mentor, tests and evaluation are identical. Offline adds the classroom peer group and access to the centre; online removes the commute and gives you session recordings for a limited catch-up window. Offline also ensures discipline from your end. If you have self-discipline either mode works perfectly.

Q. What if mentor assigned to me is discontinued due to either termination / they leaving ForumIAS?

The mentors at ForumIAS are identical and equally qualified. In case your assigned mentor leaves due to any reason you will be provided with a substitute mentor.
